

To: Whoever it may concern

An Innovative and focused IT specialist with a good professional outlook and who you might be looking out for. I am Maxwell Karanja and am pleased to write this letter to express my high interest to the job position as posted by your organization.

I am an enthusiastic and aggressive IT practitioner offering multiple technical skills. With the 16 months experience in software engineering and web development and the general IT industry these are my skills that I have gainfully acquired:

- Problem-solving skills
- Analytical thinking
- Frontend website development
- Backend website development & management
- Debugging
- Database administration and management
- System administration
- Live server administration and management
- API(s) Intergrations
- Computer hardware maintenance
- General IT related practices

Believing that technology leads and society follows has always been my drive towards exploring more in the IT industry and is of great importance to me. Learning, adapting and refining my skills to a notable professional scale has always been my personal ambition and priority for new projects, working tools and work environments.

Highly confident with the skills, attributes and abilities that I have, I look forward to speaking with you to discuss how my experience and abilities can match your needs and I have attached my resume in relation to the same. You can reach me via the channels below above this page.

Thankyou.
